CORBETT THE VICTOR

DEFEATS EDDIE HANLON IN THE SIXTEENTH ROUND AFTER A FURIOUS FIGHT.

GRANEY STOPS THE BATTLE

BAME LITTLE CALIFORNIAN RE-FUSES TO QUIT WHEN HE IS BADLY BEATEN.

San Francisco, Dec. 30.—A merciful referee probably saved Eddie Hanlon from being killed by "Young Corbett" Tuesday night when he stopped their contest in the middle of the sixteenth round. For two rounds previous Referee Graneley had begged Hanlon's seconds to take their man out of the ring, but they kept the game youngster at it and finally Graneley, fearing that a fatality might result, ordered the fight stopped.

No man ever received such terrific punishment in a San Francisco ring and probably "Young Corbett" is the only man in the country who could administer such a beating to Hanlon.

When the San Francisco boy was carried to his corner still conscious but unable to walk, his seconds worked vigorously to revive him. The terribly beaten lad, however, commenced to vomit blood, and things looked very serious for him for a short time. He finally was revived and was carried from the ring by one of his seconds. Before he left "Young Corbett" paid a high tribute to his skill and gameness and saluted his brother prize fighter with an affectionate kiss.

Corbett Was Merciful.

It must be said for Corbett that he was as merciful, under the circumstances, as he could be. During the fourteenth and fifteenth rounds he, too, was anxious to have the fight stopped in order to save Hanlon needless punishment.

The fight demonstrated that Corbett is any man's superior at his weight. At no time during the contest was he in any apparent danger, and when it ended there was not a mark upon him. Hanlon's most peculiar and very effective defense was all that saved him from a knockout early in the game. Even when he became tired and could not protect himself Corbett could not land a knockout blow.

In the thirteenth and fourteenth rounds Corbett began to show what he could do. The men were allowed to fight in the clinches and Corbett, leaning his head against Hanlon's shoulder and with his arms free, would punch him in the stomach with his right and swing fierce short lefts on his jaw. That was the beginning of the end.

In the fifteenth Corbett backed Hanlon into a corner and when the San Francisco boy swung feebly Corbett swung two lightning lefts and Hanlon went down. He took the count of eight, but struggled to his feet and again received the terrific punishment that Corbett was dealing out to him. It was then that Graneley wanted the fight stopped.

Looked Bright for Hanlon.

In the seventh round things looked a bit bright for the Californian. He scored a clean knockout when he landed a right swing on the point of Corbett's jaw. The Denver lad was up in an instant, however, and apparently was not injured by the blow. In the twelfth round Hanlon made his last stand. All through he did the forcing and leading. Corbett was swinging wild when Eddie landed a terrific right on the stomach. It evidently hurt the champion, but he was too busy to think about it and went right on with the game.

In the earlier part of the fight, when Hanlon was protecting his head and stomach by crossing his arms and gloves, Corbett would push his head back with his left and uppercut him with his right. The blows did no apparent harm, but eventually they told. Hanlon would fight in the clinches, but Corbett was even more proficient than he at that style and it was this ability to land hard short arm blows that led to him winning the fight.

The sixteenth round had lasted but a minute and forty seconds when Referee Graneley stopped the fight.

Vanquished Lauds the Victor.

Hanlon, when seen in his dressing room, was still in great distress and refused to talk much. He did say, however, that Corbett can beat any of them. Although defeated, the San Francisco boy was not disgraced and was more loudly cheered than the champion when he left the ring.

The attendance was enormous for a featherweight fight. The receipts were between $16,000 and $20,000. Fifty per cent of the receipts were divided between the fighters, the winner taking 75 per cent of this amount and the loser 25 per cent. In addition Corbett was given 5 per cent of the gross receipts in view of his drawing powers.

The fight will go into ring history as the fastest and fiercest seen here. Corbett and Hanlon met at Harry Corbett's resort in the evening, where the question of weight was decided. The articles of agreement stipulated that they should, weigh in at 125 pounds at 6 o'clock or forfeit $1,000. Corbett was the first to step on the scales and just tipped the beam at an even 125 pounds. Hanlon evidently was under these figures, as he failed to move the scales.

The betting favored Corbett at odds of 2 to 1 at the ringside. Eastern bookmakers backing the Denver boy heavily.

ATTACK SAN DOMINGO.

Insurgents Attempting to Carry the City by Storm.

San Domingo, Dec. 30.—The insurgents are storming this city, which is being defended by the troops of the provisional government, who are now fighting in force.

A commission from San Pedro de Macoris which has declared in favor of the insurgents arrived here Sunday and is demanding the surrender of San Domingo to the insurgent forces.

General Morales, the provisional president, is determined to resist to the last all attacks by the insurgents. He left Saturday night on the Dominican gunboat Independencia with the intention of attacking the insurgents in ports to the south.

SECOND WARSHIP SENT.

Minister Powell Appeals for Additional Protection.

Washington, Dec. 30.—With three revolutions raging on the island, the forces of Jimenez within four hours of San Domingo city and the greatest excitement prevailing, Minister Powell thinks the situation demands the presence of an additional warship and in a cablegram dated Monday appeals to the state department for aid.

Admiral Lambertson has cabled the navy department from Culebra that he has sent the Scorpion to reinforce the Newport in Dominican waters, as requested by the department of state.

WOULD AMEND TREATY.

At Present It Limits Use of Naval Vessels on Great Lakes

Washington, Dec. 30.—The state department has not been informed up to this moment that the Canadian government contemplates placing an armed cruiser on the lakes in addition to the few small and insignificant naval vessels now maintained there. Recently the Canadian government laid down a couple of revenue cutters for lake service and although these were, being of modern type, better vessels than those heretofore employed for this work, their construction was not regarded here as violating the treaty. Attention was called to the matter, however, by some of the congressmen from the Great Lakes section and the state department made a quiet but effective inquiry into the character of the Canadian cutters.

As soon as congress reconvenes there will be a renewal of the attempt to obtain repeal or modification of the Rush treaty, which limits use of naval vessels on the lakes.

PANIC IN COTTON MARKET.

Prices Go Down Sixty Points Within Ten Minutes.

New Orleans, Dec. 30.—It was a field day for the bears in the cotton market Tuesday. After several futile attempts to break the market a panic was caused some way or other and within ten minutes prices went down about 60 points or $3 a bale. This happened during the forenoon and for about half an hour the cotton exchange was in an uproar. Hundreds of longs were wiped out and their efforts to get out with as small a loss as possible caused prices to go lower and lower. It was one of the worst stampedes of frightened longs ever seen in the local market and more than equalled the recent rush of the shorts to cover at the reading of the last government report on the cotton crop.

DAMAGING TO GRAVELLE.

Witness Proves Statement in Alibi in False.

Helena, Mont., Dec. 30.—The most damaging testimony in the Gravelle case was introduced by the state Tuesday to disprove the defendant's alibi. Gravelle was released from the Deer Lodge penitentiary, July 16 last, and the first threatening letter to the Northern Pacific railway was mailed from Butte July 17. When Gravelle left Deer Lodge he had a ticket for Butte and he testified that he did not go to Butte for two days, taking a branch road and going to Anaconda. In support of his statement of being at Anaconda July 17, he introduced two witnesses.

Tuesday the state put on the stand P. H. Hayes, the trainmaster of the Butte, Anaconda and Pacific railway, who runs the branch from Stuart to Anaconda and he proved by the train sheets of the road that July 16 not a wheel turned on the branch and that therefore Gravelle's statement that he had changed cars that day at Stuart for Anaconda was false.

The taking of testimony was concluded Tuesday and arguments to the jury begun. The case will go to the jury Wednesday afternoon.

SITUATION IN PANAMA

PRINCIPAL SUBJECT UNDER DISCUSSION BY THE CABINET AT WASHINGTON.

ROOT CONFERS WITH REYES

THE SECRETARY OF WAR IS NOW CONDUCTING NEGOTIATIONS WITH COLOMBIAN.

Washington, Dec. 30.—At a meeting of the cabinet called by the president Tuesday afternoon the Panama situation was the principal subject under consideration. All members of the cabinet except Secretary Hay, who is ill, Secretary Shaw and Attorney General Knox, who are out of the city, were present. The meeting was one of the longest held for several weeks, the session consuming quite two hours. At the conclusion of the meeting the members were not communicative but it was learned that in addition to a discussion of matters relating to Panama several departmental matters of minor importance were considered.

Secretary Root was delayed nearly half an hour in his arrival at the meeting, having been in conference with General Reyes, the special representative of Colombia. This circumstance caused it to transpire that during the illness of Secretary Hay, Secretary Root has been designated by the president to conduct the negotiations of this government with General Reyes.

Details Before the President.

Secretary Root laid before the president the details of his interview with the Colombian minister. Careful consideration was given to the Colombian note filed with the state department by General Reyes, but it can be said that no answer yet has been made to it. The note was submitted by the Colombian minister in Spanish. Secretary Root informed General Reyes Tuesday afternoon that the reply of this government was not ready but that it would be given him as soon as possible. Secretary Root will give the response to General Reyes when a decision as to its precise nature shall have been reached.

No intimation of the contents of General Reyes' note or of the reply of this government is given from any authoritative source. It is known, however, that the administration regards the ratification of the treaty with the Republic of Panama as the first step to be taken in the entire pending matter. What this government may do subsequently will be determined at least in part by the circumstances then surrounding the case. Just now it is said authoritatively there is nothing in the situation to arouse serious concern.

It is presumed General Reyes will remain in Washington at least until the reply of the United States to his note shall have been presented, and this it is thought may be ready by Thursday.

FAVOR THE CANAL TREATY.

Candidates Elected to Panama's Constitutional Convention.

Panama, Dec. 30.—Heavy rains have been falling here since Sunday, causing severe damage to the telegraph lines. No news has been received here from Los Santos or Chiriqui provinces. From other provinces confirmation has been received of the overwhelming triumph of the mixed candidates proposed for membership in the constitutional convention by the patriotic committee, which in selecting them endeavored to choose men favoring the ratification of the canal treaty. Dr. Anador is the most popular candidate.

BEAUPRE SAILS FOR HOME.

Confers With Minister Buchanan Before Leaving Colon.

Colon, Dec. 30.—William I. Buchanan, United States minister to Panama, came to Colon Tuesday and conferred with A. M. Beaupre, United States minister to Colombia.

Later in the day Mr. Beaupre sailed on the steamer Yucatan for New York.

Mother Locked Them in the House and Went Visiting.

Chicago, Dec. 30.—Mrs. Michael Kondas of Woodlawn avenue, locked her two children, Barbara, five years of age, and Mary, two years younger, in the house Tuesday afternoon while she went off to visit with a neighbor. During her absence the house caught fire and both children perished in the flames.

They might have been rescued but nobody knew they were in the house until Mrs. Kondas attempted to rush in and save them.

I suffered for nine years with ovarian troubles making life a burden to myself as well as to my family. During that time I had two miscarriages and although we longed for a child to bless our home this seemed impossible. I had constant racking bearing-down pains in the pelvic organs and a pulling through my limbs with frequent headaches. I felt sick at my stomach and vomited frequently and no medicine helped me until I tried Wine of Cardui.

Then my general health improved, the pains gradually lessened and after 18 weeks I was well. I am now the happy mother of a boy eighteen months old and my husband joins me in sending heartfelt thanks to you for your splendid medicine.

WINE OF CARDUI

Wine of Cardui is the most successful menstrual regulator. By regulating menstruation, Wine of Cardui banishes inflammation from the entire female organism and the strengthened ligaments bring the organs back to their proper place. This is what Wine of Cardui did for Mrs. Nirdlinger. It banished the racking pains and burning inflammation and brought her relief. She was restored to health and strength and gives Wine of Cardui the credit of making her able to become a happy mother. This medicine equips a woman for every duty of wifehood and motherhood. There are many suffering women who think that health can never be theirs because they cannot secure the services of a great specialist, but we want to say right here that while Mrs. Nirdlinger lives in Philadelphia, a great medical center, she depended on Wine of Cardui for a cure and she was cured. This same medicine is within your reach. Will you take it?

STUBBORN ELAZE AT PITTSBURG.

Firemen Work for Twelve Hours to Subdue the Flames.

Pittsburg, Dec. 30.—For twelve hours, commencing at 6 o'clock Tuesday morning, thirteen engine companies battled with a stubborn fire in the six-story storage warehouse of Haugh & Keenan. Crossed electric wires is given as the possible cause of the conflagration. The loss, according to James F. Keenan, president of the company, will not fall below $200,000 and may reach $700,000. The insurance will not cover more than one-tenth of the loss.

Mr. Keenan blames the steel shutters and doors which are approved by the fire underwriters, for most of the damage. He contends that if the firemen had been able to open these doors and shutters, the flames would have been under control long before they were.

From the time the fire was discovered in the morning until it was smothered out in the evening, not once did the flames appear in any great volume, but slowly and surely ate their way from the fifth floor to the sixth and from the fifth to the third floor. All the goods that were not burned were more or less damaged by the flood of water poured into the building.

The Carnegie museum may lose considerable on its Bayet collection of fossils, which were stored in the building for want of room at the Carnegie Institute building. This collection was bought by Andrew Carnegie from the king of Belgium last year at a heavy cost.

REFUSE TO ARBITRATE.

Employers Turn Down Proposal of Striking Livery Drivers.

Chicago, Dec. 30.—A positive refusal to arbitrate was the decision of the joint associations of liverymen on the proposal submitted by the striking livery drivers. The strikers asked that the adjustment of the whole difficulty be placed in the hands of former members of the Chicago board of arbitration. The reason given by the livery owners for their refusal of the proposition of the men was that the selection of the arbitrators by the drivers gave the employers no voice in the matter.

Many desertions from the union were reported Tuesday. At the headquarters of the liverymen's association it was claimed that fully sixty strikers had applied for their old jobs and had been put back to work.

WINE OF CARDUI

Wine of Cardui is the most successful menstrual regulator. By regulating menstruation, Wine of Cardui banishes inflammation from the entire female organism and the strengthened ligaments bring the organs back to their proper place. This is what Wine of Cardui did for Mrs. Nirdlinger. It banished the racking pains and burning inflammation and brought her relief. She was restored to health and strength and gives Wine of Cardui the credit of making her able to become a happy mother. This medicine equips a woman for every duty of wifehood and motherhood. There are many suffering women who think that health can never be theirs because they cannot secure the services of a great specialist, but we want to say right here that while Mrs. Nirdlinger lives in Philadelphia, a great medical center, she depended on Wine of Cardui for a cure and she was cured. This same medicine is within your reach. Will you take it?

All druggists sell $1.00 bottles Wine of Cardui.

IN STATE PRISON FOR NATURAL LIFE IS FATE OF MRS. WILLIAMS

Judge McClenahan Passed Sentence on Condemned Woman this Morning at the Court House.

PRISONER WEPT BITTERLY AT SENTENCE

George Dill, Guilty of Adultery, Sentenced to Stillwater on Reformatory Plan== Sentence Considered Light.

"And the sentence of the court is that you, Myra Jane Williams, be confined in the state prison at Stillwater for the term of your natural life," were the final words spoken this morning by Judge McClenahan in passing sentence on the condemned woman and the last page in the history of a case that has seldom ever been equalled in the discernment of human nature, having much to do with matters of life, love and death, has been turned.

It was 10 o'clock this morning when Sheriff Ole Erickson brought Mrs. Williams, who had been convicted of murder in the first degree, into the court room. The matter of disposing of the motion for a new trial interposed by the condemned woman's attorney, A. T. Larson, was the first phase of the question considered this morning, and the suspense to the prisoner at the bar seemed to tell on her as it has at no time since she was arrested on the Sunday afternoon of August 23 last. She seemed more worried than at any time since the terrible deed was committed on the dawn of that beautiful August morning on the banks of the Mississippi river, a worry perhaps which was inspired from fear of what the sentence might be, the fear that the court would impose capital punishment instead of life imprisonment, but when the real crash did come, when the adjudgment was made that the balance of her natural life be spent behind prison walls, she seemed to collapse and when led to her seat again she sort of threw herself down, and burying her face in the folds of a lace handkerchief, a gift of some friends since she has been confined in the county jail, she wept bitterly and her whole frame shook with emotion.

THE MOTION DENIED.

Judge McClenahan when he took up this case first passed upon the motion for new trial, which had been argued night before last in chambers. The court stated that he had considered the matter carefully and without going into an extensive review of all the grounds on which the motion was based, presumed that the main contention was against the admissibility of the confession of Mrs. Williams to County Attorney Crane as evidence. He dwelt at length on this objection, giving as his opinion that the wording of County Attorney Crane to Mrs. Williams prior to the confession, did not constitute an inducement or intimidation. He stated that a word of advice, particularly on the part of a public official, did not constitute an inducement. The advice was taken as a general moral one and he thought that there was no ground here on which he would grant the motion.

On the other material objection, in effect that the state had failed to establish the corpus delicti, the court gave it as his opinion that the direct proof of death had been proven. He denied the motion.

THE SENTENCE PASSED.

Judge McClenahan then turned to the defendant, who had been called up to hear what the penalty would be and asked if she had anything to say why sentence should not be passed. Her Attorney, A. T. Larson, spoke a few words on her behalf, calling attention to the fact of the extenuating circumstances of that terrible night of August 22, presuming, of course, that the verdict as returned by the jury was a true one, and of her mental condition after she had passed through what she had. The court took these matters into consideration.

Turning to the condemned woman the court said:

"Have you a trade?"

"No, I have not."

These were the last words said by Mrs. Williams in the court room. The court stated that it was an unpleasant duty and he also felt that it must be painful for the receiver. He then passed sentence, adjudging that she be confined in the state prison at Stillwater for the term of her natural life, and all was over.

Mrs. Williams, up to the time the sentence was passed stood up against the judge's bench with her left elbow on the bench, her head reclining on her hand. Her long, haggard, disreputable form, clothed in the black dress, presented a solemn aspect, and when she turned to go back to her seat, the face which had once seemed to look at the whole proceedings with a stoical and indifferent attitude, had turned to one writhed in pain, and as large tears plowed their way through the furrowed lines of her face, the forehead, that had never given signs of wrinkle, had at last learned to frown. Her face turned pallid and she seemed to sink beneath the load as though trying to evade the picture of the awful future; years spent behind prison walls, real life and light shut out forever.

The absence of all the woman's relatives and friends in the court room made the scene doubly sorrowful. Her husband was not present nor was there a friend in the room, except her attorney, who pressed forward to extend a hand of sympathy.

Ere dawn on New Years Day the prison wall will have welcomed Mrs. Williams to their gloomy embrace; she will have passed over the threshold of the penitentiary with her back turned upon the entire world and the door will be closed upon her forever, and thus the murderer of little Lilly Williams will expiate the terrible crime, justice having been meted out in true measure, and the great system of punishment for crime in this free and liberty loving country having once more been exemplified.

GEORGE DILL SENTENCED.

Immediately after Mrs. Williams was sentenced, George Dill was brought before Judge McClenahan. He was sentenced to the state penitentiary on the reformatory plan. He pleaded guilty some time ago to adultery. The reformatory plan of sentence is a very light one, it all depending on the man himself how long a term he will serve, his behavior having more to do with it than anything else. He will be subject to parole in a few months.

In all probability Mrs. Williams and Dill will be taken to Stillwater tomorrow afternoon.

There will be a meeting of the teamsters' union on Saturday evening at which time there will be election of officers, after which there will be a smoke social.

SUED FOR $10,000 DAMAGES

Plaintiff Was Hurt While Employed by the Railroad Company at Landing Near Dam.

Late this afternoon the jury in the case of Abraham John vs the Minnesota & International Ry., brought in a verdict of $750 in favor of the plaintiff.

The plaintiff sued the company for personal injuries sustained while he was working at the landing near the dam on August 29 last. As he was unloading a car of logs he was caught and pinioned between two logs and was quite badly hurt about the legs, body and shoulders. Attorneys Polk & Polk appeared for the plaintiff and Attorney Hollister, of Duluth, appeared for the defendant company.

IN STATE PRISON FOR NATURAL LIFE IS FATE OF MRS. WILLIAMS

Judge McClenahan Passed Sentence on Condemned Woman this Morning at the Court House.

PRISONER WEPT BITTERLY AT SENTENCE

George Dill, Guilty of Adultery, Sentenced to Stillwater on Reformatory Plan== Sentence Considered Light.

"And the sentence of the court is that you, Myra Jane Williams, be confined in the state prison at Stillwater for the term of your natural life," were the final words spoken this morning by Judge McClenahan in passing sentence on the condemned woman and the last page in the history of a case that has seldom ever been equalled in the discernment of human nature, having much to do with matters of life, love and death, has been turned.

It was 10 o'clock this morning when Sheriff Ole Erickson brought Mrs. Williams, who had been convicted of murder in the first degree, into the court room. The matter of disposing of the motion for a new trial interposed by the condemned woman's attorney, A. T. Larson, was the first phase of the question considered this morning, and the suspense to the prisoner at the bar seemed to tell on her as it has at no time since she was arrested on the Sunday afternoon of August 23 last. She seemed more worried than at any time since the terrible deed was committed on the dawn of that beautiful August morning on the banks of the Mississippi river, a worry perhaps which was inspired from fear of what the sentence might be, the fear that the court would impose capital punishment instead of life imprisonment, but when the real crash did come, when the adjudgment was made that the balance of her natural life be spent behind prison walls, she seemed to collapse and when led to her seat again she sort of threw herself down, and burying her face in the folds of a lace handkerchief, a gift of some friends since she has been confined in the county jail, she wept bitterly and her whole frame shook with emotion.

THE MOTION DENIED.

Judge McClenahan when he took up this case first passed upon the motion for new trial, which had been argued night before last in chambers. The court stated that he had considered the matter carefully and without going into an extensive review of all the grounds on which the motion was based, presumed that the main contention was against the admissibility of the confession of

Mrs. Williams to County Attorney Crane as evidence. He dwelt at length on this objection, giving as his opinion that the wording of County Attorney Crane to Mrs. Williams prior to the confession, did not constitute an inducement or intimidation. He stated that a word of advice, particularly on the part of a public official, did not constitute an inducement. The advice was taken as a general moral one and he thought that there was no ground here on which he would grant the motion.

On the other material objection, in effect that the state had failed to establish the corpus delicti, the court gave it as his opinion that the direct proof of death had been proven. He denied the motion.

THE SENTENCE PASSED.

Judge McClenahan then turned to the defendant, who had been called up to hear what the penalty would be and asked if she had anything to say why sentence should not be passed. Her Attorney, A. T. Larson, spoke a few words on her behalf, calling attention to the fact of the extenuating circumstances of that terrible night of August 22, presuming, of course, that the verdict as returned by the jury was a true one, and of her mental condition after she had passed through what she had. The court took these matters into consideration.

Turning to the condemned woman the court said:

"Have you a trade?"

"No, I have not."

These were the last words said by Mrs. Williams in the court room. The court stated that it was an unpleasant duty and he also felt that it must be painful for the receiver. He then passed sentence, adjudging that she be confined in the state prison at Stillwater for the term of her natural life, and all was over.

Mrs. Williams, up to the time the sentence was passed stood up against the judge's bench with her left elbow on the bench, her head reclining on her hand.
Her long, haggard, discrepant form, clothed in the black dress, presented a solemn aspect, and when she turned to go back to her seat, the face which had once seemed to look at the whole proceedings with a stoical and indifferent attitude, had turned to one writhed in pain, and as large tears plowed their way through the furrowed lines of her face, the forehead, that had never given signs of wrinkle, had at last learned to frown. Her face turned pallid and she seemed to sink beneath the load as though trying to evade the picture of the awful future: years spent behind prison walls, real life and light shut out forever.

The absence of all the woman's relatives and friends in the court room made the scene doubly sorrowful. Her husband was not present nor was there a friend in the room, except her attorney, who pressed forward to extend a hand
of sympathy.

Ere dawn on New Years Day the prison wall will have welcomed Mrs.
Williams to their gloomy embrace; she will have passed over the threshold of the penitentiary with her back turned upon the entire world and the door will be closed upon her forever, and thus the murderess of little Lilly Williams will expiate the terrible crime, justice having been meted out in true measure, and the great system of punishment for crime in this free and liberty loving country having once more been exemplified.

GEORGE DILL SENTENCED.

Immediately after Mrs. Williams was sentenced, George Dill was brought before Judge McClenahan. He was sentenced to the state penitentiary on the reformatory plan. He plead guilty some time ago to adultery. The reformatory plan of sentence is a very light one, it all depending on the man himself how long a term he will serve, his behavior having more to do with it than anything else. He will be subject to parole in a few months.

In all probability Mrs. Williams and Dill will be taken to Stillwater tomorrow afternoon.

There will be a meeting of the teamsters' union on Saturday evening at which time there will be election of officers, after which there will be a smoke social. 17715

JAPANESE CABINET AUTHORIZES
USE OF CHINESE INDEMNITY
IN EVENT OF WAR.

RUSSIA INCLINED TO YIELD

MAY DECIDE TO MAKE A CONCESSION TO CHINA WITH REGARD TO MANCHURIA.

Tokio, Dec. 30.—Another cabinet council was held Tuesday lasting nearly four hours.

The ordinances passed Monday by the cabinet council authorizing a guarantee of principal and interest of an issue of 10,000,000 yen debentures for the purpose of expediting work on the Seoul-Fusan railway and which provided for all possible military expenses for the protection of the railway and other interests also authorizes the government to utilize 50,000,000 yen, the proceeds of the Chinese indemnity which heretofore has been devoted to educational and other purposes, as a war fund. In addition authorization has been given to issue treasury notes payable in five years and raise loans repayable in two years to an unlimited extent.

The Seoul-Fusan railway by this action becomes virtually a government enterprise. The government guarantees the capital of 10,000,000 yen and 6 per cent interest, and will nominate the directors.

The new military council will be composed of the ministers of war and marine and the chiefs of the military, naval and general staffs and leading generals and admirals.

Thus, under the emergency arrangements, the naval and military staffs are placed on the same footing.

It is stated that at Monday's luncheon the emperor unreservedly invited the senior statesmen and the councilors to give their advice on the existing crisis.

The promulgation of the ordinances had great effect in calming public impatience.

WITH REGARD TO MANCHURIA.

Russia More Inclined to Make a Concession to China.

London, Dec. 30.—The Shanghai correspondent of the Daily Mail reports that Russia is more inclined to make a concession to China with regard to Manchuria and says that he learns that unless Russia pays consideration to the Chinese demand China will join with Japan. The correspondent also says that Yuan Shai Kai, who has been entrusted with the task of negotiating with Russia, has a decided predilection for an alliance with Japan and that the empress dowager also favors one.

The Daily Mirror asserts that Japan's note to Russia demands a material guarantee of honest intentions with regard to Korea by a reduction of the Russian fleet in far Eastern waters to half its present strength.

The above is a part of a report submitted by Chairman Nicholson of the teachers' wage committee to the meeting of the educational council, Iowa State Teachers' association. REMOVED TO FORT MADISON.

Negrees Taken From Council Bluffs to Prevent Lynching.

Council Bluffs, Ia., Dec. 30.—Neely Zimmerman and George Burke, the negroes who Monday night narrowly escaped lynching at the hands of an infuriated mob, have been taken to the state penitentiary at Fort Madison, Ia., for safe keeping. During the afternoon the men were taken before Judge Wheeler and waived preliminary examination. The judge then signed an order for their removal and Sheriff Cousins left with them on the first train for Fort Madison.

During the day, Sheriff Cousins learned of an organized plan to lynch Zimmerman and Burke Tuesday night and again made a request for a company of militia to guard the court-house and arranged for a heavy force of city police to assist in case their services were desired.

Feeling against the prisoners increased and during the afternoon small groups of men gathered in the vicinity of the jail to discuss the matter. Sheriff Cousins then decided that the safest course was to remove the men from the city and applied for an order of removal.

Four assaults within a week similar to those made on Mrs. Sparks and her daughter had wrought up the working people of the city to a pitch of great excitement and led to the precautionary action of the sheriff.

Severe Snow Storm Causes Discomfort in Chicago.

Chicago, Dec. 30.—A severe snow storm followed by a cold wave visited Chicago Friday. The snow commenced to fall at 9 o'clock in the morning and continued until late in the afternoon, the entire fall being estimated by the weather office at three and one-half inches. The storm at first was unaccompanied by wind, but late in the afternoon a gale of forty miles an hour sprang up from the northwest and the mercury fell rapidly. The thermometer stood at 15 above during the greater part of the day, and at 19 o'clock at night it had fallen to 4 below, with the promise from the weather office of 10 degrees below today.

The snow did not cause any trouble until the wind arose, when it commenced to drift badly, and many of the outlying street car lines were badly crippled.

Exciting Experience.

ten safely ashore and the boat made fast for the night with slight damage.
The storm destroyed many chimneys,
show windows, etc.
